

Here are a few of the ways that CCS Students are recognizing Black History Month 2021

Grade Nine students are reading Just Mercy by Bryan Stevenson. They are discussing the injustices faced by Walter McMillian and the creation of Bryan Stevenson's Equal Justice Initiative.

This month, the LINC is screening films that share and celebrate Black stories for grade 10-12 students.

Teachers are finding ways to engage students in conversation and education about Black History. Pastor Layne displayed this interactive resource in the Secondary as a tool to teach about Black History in Canada.

Black History Month is the topic of grade six social studies this month.
